✓ What cookies will be used and for what purpose?

a. Performance cookies

Cookies are small data files that are downloaded to a user's computer, phone or tablet when you visit a website. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies. They help website operators to, for example, recognize a user that has visited a website previously and to analyze behavior in order to improve the user experience. Further details on the cookies used on our Website and their purposes are set out below.

b. Targeting or Marketing cookies

As part of our marketing initiatives these cookies collect information about your browsing habits (e.g. which source a particular visit is coming from) and inferred interests in order to make advertising more relevant to you. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advert, as well as to measure the effectiveness and performance of an advertising campaign. Some of these cookies are placed by our third-party advertising networks. They remember the other websites that you visit and this information is shared with third-party organizations, for example advertisers.

c. Functionality cookies

These cookies enable our Website to remember choices you make and your personal preferences such as log in details in order to improve the user experience, for example by avoiding you having to re-enter these details on each visit to our Website.

✓ How long will the cookies remain?

Third party cookies
